Reception: This week Reception continued to read the short tale 'The Little Red Hen'. Reception have deepened their knowledge of the text by retelling the story and innovating elements of the text. Reception have developed strong storytelling skills and have been unleashing their imaginations. We looked at the role of a baker, discussing ingredients and method to making bread. We even made our own loaf and had a taste! In maths, we have focussed on cardinal counting within 30 and continued comparing quantities, recognising numbers that are 'more than' or 'less than'.

Nursery: This week, we have read a very popular story, Jack and the Beanstalk, children have demonstrated superb story comprehension and developed their acting skills to act out and perform the story through Talk 4 Writing actions. In maths, we have developed our counting abilities through counting songs and identifying and counting small groups of objects. As Mother's day approaches, children have applied their creative skills to create their own mother's day cards using a range of resources. As part of Tasty Tuesday this week we discussed the process involved in making pasta and what happens when cheese is heated up. The children absolutely loved cheesy pasta!
