Reception: This week, Reception created rockets and flew to space after reading the text 'whatever next'. We have imagined what we would pack in our bags if we were to go to the moon, even using our phonic knowledge to write down some of the most important things we would pack. We looked at the role of an astronaut and why humans travel to the moon. On Wednesday we had a surprise treat as we sat on the stage to watch Cinderella the pantomime, oh yes we did! In maths, we have revisited ordering numbers 0-5, understanding that as each number increases it grows by one more.

Nursery: We are so proud of all our Nursery children for coming back to school so sensibly after the Christmas break and being such good role models for all our new starters. The children have delighted in learning all about the traditional nursery rhyme character 'Humpty Dumpty' and reading the story 'Think Big' by one of our favourite authors Kes Gray. We have enjoyed talking about all the different jobs we could do when we are bigger if we just believe in ourselves. Some of us talked about being scientists and we really enjoyed investigating lots of different materials to find out if they were hard or fragile—it was really 'egg-citing'! In Maths we have been doing lots of problem solving and challenging ourselves to complete tricky puzzles—well done Nursery!

At Hadrian Park, we celebrate the achievements of EVERYONE. Last term, we explored the achievements of women in history. This term, we have decided to explore the achievement's of men. Each year group has picked an individual that inspires them. We are going to learn about the individual and engage in a range of tasks to showcase our learning . Each class will create a short video explaining how their chosen individual shaped History today.

Next term, we will be celebrating the achievements of 'local' people or events. This will be called our 'Local' Story day. As a school, we have listened to our children's voice and decided to continue to host one history day per term. Moving forward, we have decided to ask our school councilors to get involved to help us gain a deeper understanding of our children's voice for next years themes.

Thank you,
HPPS Team
